Past-Meets-Present

Designs by Philippe Starck

An artful coexistence of historic and modern, Lotte Hotel Seattle honors the Emerald City's storied heritage through a distinctly opulent vision. The hotel's past-meets-present spirit is captured in the juxtaposition of its striking exterior, a modern 44-story glass skyscraper almost seamlessly joined to The Sanctuary, one of Seattle's most treasured historic landmarks.

From the mind of world-renowned French industrial designer Philippe Starck come signature twists, abstract symbols and playful design elements found throughout the hotel. Symbolic nods to the Pacific Northwest include rustic and timber motifs referencing Seattle's origin story as a logging town.

One-of-A-Kind Venue

The breathtaking Sanctuary Grand Ballroom is one of Seattle's most beloved and sought-after venues. It sits within what was once the oldest church in downtown Seattle, an iconic Beaux Arts-style landmark dating back more than 100 years. A painstaking $40 million restoration touched virtually every aspect of the building, preserving its original 1908 stained glass windows, carved woodwork, terra cotta moldings, and full-wall pipe organ, while adding subtle modern touches, including a striking halo light fixture suspended over a small balcony bar. The building is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.
