ART OF SABRAGE

Legend has it that Napoleon's cavalry invented sabrage in the last days of the French empire. When Madame Clicquot entertained Napoleon's officers in her vineyard, she offered them bottles and bottles of champagne. At sunrise, Napoleon's officers rode off on horseback and whipped out their sabers to behead the bottles to impress the young widow.

Join the resort's expert beverage team to learn more about this storied technique (used to behead a bottle of champagne), and bring home your own personalized saber from our Market to continue this festive celebration time and time again.
